Are Dogs the Right Pet for You: Can YOU Find the Facts? (The Pet Detectives Series) Emma Milne
Did you know that dogs are social animals, like us, which means they love to spend time with human and doggy friends? What do dogs love to eat, what do they just love to do, and what keeps them happy, as well as healthy? Dogs can be brilliant and entertaining pets but we shouldn't forget that-like all animals-they have their own needs. It might surprise you to learn that dogs don't like being hugged, and it's important to know how dogs show you when they want some quiet time. You can find out by learning the facts in this book and taking on detective assignments to investigate their needs. By going through your pet detective tasks to learn about taking care of a real dog, you can find out if you and your family are the right owners for these special pets. If you discover that you and a dog aren't a perfect match, this book will give you pointers to other fabulous animals that might suit you and your family better. Emma Milne is a vet who has written several books about animals, their welfare, and the ups and downs of life as a vet. She has been featured on BBC's Vets in Practice and appeared in shows such as GMTV, Inside Out, and Question Time. This is her fourth book in The Pet Detectives series, following Is a Cat the Right Pet for You? (Series: The Pet Detectives Series) [Subject: Popular Culture, Pet Care]
